Blessing of Sri Satguru

~~Our~~ dear Children!

At first it seemed we were two,
Then two became one,
Finally, even that one disappeared.
This true experience is beyond words!

We bless you to attain that state!

Oh Lord! Even the thought "everything is happening according to 'Your grace'" also belongs to YOU—————not to me!

We bless you to realize the ultimate Truth!

The ultimate bliss will happen only for those, who have forgotten all knowledge acquired by mind!

The ultimate bliss will happen only for those, when no longer questions arise!

The ultimate bliss will happen only for those, when no longer attachments exist!

The ultimate bliss will happen only for those, whose heart yearns intensely for the grace of the Lord!

We bless you to get the ultimate Bliss!!

You are everything!

Praising Sri Satguru

Gurur Brahmaa Gurur Vishnu
Gurur Devo Maheswara: |
Gurur shaakshaath Para Brahmam
Dhasmai Sri Gurave Nama: ||

Sri Satguru is Brahma, the creator.
Sri Satguru is Vishnu, the sustainer.
Sri Satguru is Maheswaran, the destroyer.
Sri Satguru is the Supreme Self, Itself.
Sri Satguru is all pervading.

Authentic truth is WE are That; That WE are.

Thelivu Sri Satguru thirumeni kaandal.
Thelivu Sri Satguru thiruvaarththai kettal.
Thelivu Sri Satguru thiru naamam ceppal.
Thelivu Sri Guru vuru cinthiththal thaane.

All we see, is the manifestation of Sri Satguru.
All we hear, are the sounds of Sri Satguru.
All we speak, are the words of Sri Satguru.
All we think, are the thoughts of Sri Satguru.

You are everything!

Tips for Tamil pronunciation

We have followed (as much as possible) the standard transliteration system used by the University of Madras in the Tamil Lexicon. We have made some substitutions for characters; these substitutions are shown in parentheses after the standard transliteration.

அ a    ஆ ā (â)    இ i    ஈ ī (î)    உ u    ஊ ū (û)
எ e    ஏ ē (ê)    ஐ ai    ஒ o    ஓ ō (ô)    ஒள au    .: k
க k    ங ṅ (ng)    ச c    ஞ ṇ̇    ட ṭ (T)    ண ṇ (N)
த t    ந n    ப p    ம m    ய y    ர r
ல l    வ v    ழ ḷ    ள ḷ (L)    ற ṛ    ன ṅ

Long vowels normally have a macron over them; however we have substituted the circumflex. The retroflex consonants normally have a dot under them; however we have followed the convention of substituting uppercase letters. The velar nasal is normally n with a dot over it; however since it is usually followed by k, we used an unmarked n. Otherwise, we wrote it as ng.

a as in above; â as in father.

i as in pin; î as in police.

u as in push; û as in rule. At the end of a word, short -u is pronounced with lips unrounded, flat.

4 The Spontaneous Experience of the Self

e as in pen; ê as in café. At the beginning of a word, e- is pronounced ye-.

ai as in aisle; at the end of a word as in day.

o as in coat, but shorter; ô as in cone.

k is a velar fricative like the ch in Bach or chutzpah.

k—when initial, or next to an unvoiced consonant, like k in English; after vowels, a velar fricative like ch in Bach or sometimes a voiced stop like g; after n, like g in finger.

ng as in singer.

c—when initial, usually pronounced as s, like the c in cent; sometimes as ch in church. In loanwords from Sanskrit, it may be sh as in shakti (Tamil cakti). After ñ, like j in enjoy. When c is doubled or after T, pronounced tch as in focaccia or cappuccino.

ñ as in piñata.

T and N are retroflex, with the tongue curled back up to the roof of the mouth. When T is between vowels or after N, it is a voiced retroflex D as in hard-earned. When initial or doubled, it is an unvoiced retroflex T, as in heart-to-heart.

t and n are dental, with the tongue extended forward to the teeth. When t comes after a vowel, it is a voiced interdental like th in other. When t follows n, it is pronounced as a voiced d. When doubled, tt is unvoiced as in Italian attacca. Sometimes the Tamil dental t is transliterated as “th”, but we avoid this as in Indian languages “th” indicates an aspirated t, which does not exist in Tamil.

p—like p in English when initial or after an unvoiced consonant; between vowels or after m it is pronounced b.

m, y, r, l, v are more or less as in English.

ḷ was originally a voiced alveolar-lateral fricative; now it is pronounced the same as retroflex L. Sometimes it is transliterated as “zh”.

L is a retroflex L, with the tongue bent backward and up to the roof of the mouth.

ṛ is a strongly trilled alveolar r. It was originally an alveolar ṭ; when followed by an unvoiced consonant, it is pronounced as ṭ. Note: doubled ṛṛ is pronounced tr as in attract.

ṇ is an alveolar n the same as English n.

Loan words from Sanskrit: b, s, j, g and h.

You are everything!

Refuge at the holy feet of Sri Satguru!

Prayer

Oh! Supreme Being!

Bless both the Sri Satguru and disciples to be established in the excellent state! Give us full vigour for our endeavor to realize the Self. Remove our mental tiredness and bestow your grace to us to work bravely.

Take us away from this unreal life related with body and world. That means, make our mind free from desire, anger, haste, impatience, speed, lust, fear and sorrow which are the products of attachment, bondage and relationships. Guide us to walk on the path of the truth.

Lead us from the dark world of the wavering and doubting mind, to the world of bliss consisting of conviction, peace, tranquility and silence.

Remove the fear of death from us, by preventing us from rebirth and unite us one with the eternal Being. Remove the fear of death from us, by preventing us from rebirth and unite us one with the eternal Being.

Desire develops into passion; passion creates anger (due to unfulfillment); anger destroys our awareness; unawareness prevents realizing the Self as Brahman. Therefore, save our souls from destruction caused by desire, passion and anger, and shower your grace to abide us as eternal Brahmam!

Protect us and bestow your grace !

Protect us and bestow your grace!!!

Protect us and bestow your grace!!!!!!

Refuge at holy feet of Guru!

Refuge at the holy feet of the Lord!!

You are everything!

You are everything!!

You are everything!!!

You are everything!

Jaya Satguru Devaa

Jaya Satguru Devaa - Thiruvadi

Thuli Satguru Devaa

(We) surrendered to you at thy Holy feet

Gave us immortality.

(We) surrendered to you at thy Holy feet

Gave us immortality.

(Jaya Satguru Devaa)

We got tired of searching many gods

All around the world - O Lord

All around the world

(You) Made us understand - God we searching

(You) Made us understand - God we searching

Nothing but our own Self.

(Jaya Satguru Devaa)

We suffered, thinking this false world

As true real being - O Lord

As true real being

(By) Making us, stand us, witness to all this

(By) Making us, stand us, witness to all this

Saved us from suffering.

(Jaya Satguru Devaa)

62           The Spontaneous Experience of the Self

Moved in, this world, accepting this inert body

As our own real Self - O Lord

As our own real Self

(You) Made us gracefully Blissful Brahman

(You) Made us gracefully Blissful Brahman

Is our own real state.

(Jaya Satguru Devaa)

Breaking bondage, removing karma

Illumined with real knowledge - O Lord

Illumined with real knowledge

Thiruvadi Saranam Guruvadi Saranam

Thiruvadi Saranam Guruvadi Saranam

We know nothing except this.

(Jaya Satguru Devaa)

Jaya Satguru Devaa - Thiruvadi

Thuli Satguru Devaa

(We) surrendered to you at thy Holy feet

Gave us immortality.

(We) surrendered to you at thy Holy feet

Gave us immortality.

(Jaya Satguru Devaa)

Offering Flowers at thy Holy feet

Humbly we are prostrating - O Lord

We are waving holy Lamp

In the Light of Knowledge in our hearts

In the Light of Knowledge in our hearts

We realized 'All is one'

We realized 'That is good'

We realized 'That is Pure Consciousness'

We realized 'That We are'

We realized 'That YOU are'

Jai Sri Satguru Maharaajii Kii - Jai

O the Lord Almighty!

Please take us from false to the truth!

Please take us from darkness to the light!!

Please take us from death to the immortality!!!

Om Peace: Peace : Peace ||

From wholeness emerges wholeness and if you take away wholeness from wholeness, wholeness still remains.

Om Peace: Peace : Peace ||

Let us realize ourselves as That, ultimate Truth!

We surrender everything to Brahman !!

We surrender everything to the Holy Feet of the true Master!!!

You are everything!
